

BUILD YOUR DREAM TEAM

Choose your team wisely. Teammates will make or break you.

Building your Dream Team is what WisdomWalks is about. Getting the right people on your team and understanding the role they play is essential. Life gets complicated quickly, and without those key people, it can get overwhelming. When we go with the flow, we drift toward complexity. However, when we are intentional, we drive toward clarity. WisdomWalks helps you create relational clarity by defining these relationships.

A WisdomWalker's Dream Team has four key relationships: Walker, Watchman, Warrior, and Workman. It's the perfect blend of mentoring, accountability, and discipleship. Without these key relationships, it will be increasingly more difficult for you to live a life that matters—a life of influence. We need an inner circle that brings us to Jesus, because in Christ is the fullness of wisdom.
